Why No Bottles? Cans eliminate light damage and reduce the risk of oxidation, keeping canned beer fresher than bottled beers. Cans are lighter, chill quicker and can be enjoyed anywhere, including places sensitive to the environment. Cans are far cheaper to transport. Aluminum is one the most recycled and eco-friendly of our natural resources.

And really, does crushing an empty can ever get old?

DRAFTS

The Best Way to Drink Beer...

In Our Opinion

Available In: 16oz PINTS • 24oz MOTHER MUGS • 60oz PITCHERS • 100oz TOWER

Drafts have great protection against light as they are stored by an insulated metal casing, which gives no worry for spoiled beer. Our beers all served with a 60% CO2 to 40% Nitrogen Blend except for our killer selections of Nitros which have a 25% CO2 to 75% Nitrogen mix. A draft's flavor concentration can often have better results than a bottle or a can due to the fact that you must drink draft beer from a glass. This allows the beer to breath and releases its aroma and full flavors. Our draft lines, tavern heads and faucets are cleaned no less than every 14 days, insuring that there will never be mold or bacteria buildup.
